

GENERATION

The 2006er vintage is the birth of the GENERATION. The product line GENERATION represents under own appearance the "wine-passions" of Marcel Wiedenmann. The premiere of the GENERATION is a 2006 Riesling late harvest. The grapes of that high-matured selection were harvested on 25th October 2006 with almost 100° Oechsle natural sugar content. Riesling in such premium form, has a ripening potential compared with heavy red wines. His fresh, mineralic acidity as antipole to fullbodied extract is responsible for its unique elegance.

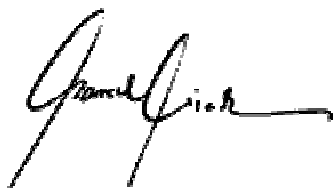

"Without tradition, there is no innovation!" As the new winemaker generation in parental winery, I will tie both together. Since three generations viticulture and winemaking is deep-seated in our family. Since that time, much has been positively developed. As the next generation I have to determine, that we mustn't reinvent the wheel, just to fine-tune it. To co-operate with the experienced generations and rediscover traditional winestyles, for me it's is an expedition back, but towards future in the truest sense of the words.

Learning from each other, the exchange of knowledge and experience, to respect and to accept are the most important processes to have the success which brings us considerably closer to our aims. To unify all those things in our wine-passion was the idea to create the Generation.

Enjoy and have fun with the Generation.

Yours

the GENERATION mw

Marcel Wiedenmann
www.generation-mw.de

Weingut Sankt Annagarten